Dr. Widenhouse To Be Rocky Mountain President

Dr. Philip M. Widenhouse, general secretary of the Division of Higher Education of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches, has been named as the president of Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Montana.

In his work with church-related colleges, Dr. Widenhouse has had an opportunity to know the value and the problems of the church-related college. He has had wide experience, and has the academic background and leadership for this service.

Recognition For Dr. Frazier

The Board of Home Missions has as its chief concern the whole life of the churches — their ministers as well as the laity. One expression of this concern is the pastors' schools, held each summer at LaForet in Colorado, and at Deering in New Hampshire. These schools grew in large part out of the initial efforts of Dr. Wm. F. Frazier who, in 1940, was the first Executive Vice-president of the Board when the first pastors' school was held.

In July, Dr. Frazier, Treasurer of the BHM, will be honored for his long and valuable service to our denomination. Dr. Frazier will retire at the end of this year as treasurer.

Named as Dr. Frazier's successor is Dr. Howard E. Spragg, general secretary of administration for the Board of Home Missions.

Refreshment: Mind and Soul

Each summer at LaForet and Deering, parish ministers may assemble under the most able Christian thinkers of our day to refresh themselves spiritually and intellectually. The universal experience is that ministers return to their parishes with vigor, insight and new commitment to the work of the Lord of Life.

The pastors' school at LaForet is open to ministers of the Southeast Convention, and will be held July 9-30. Those interested should write at once to Supt. Lightbourne. These schools may be attended at practically no cost to ministers who are recommended by their superintendents.

Student Summer Service

Student Summer Service of the Congregational Christian Churches was begun in 1915. Through the years it has been serving local communities and giving young people an opportunity to invest their talents under the inspiration of the slogan: "Using My Life Where It Will Count For the Most." Many of our greatest leaders devoted their summers to Student Summer Service in their school years. Ministers' children lead the list of those who serve. The students come from every state and serve from coast to coast and in Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Our churches have found it appropriate to take offerings for the support of this outstanding service on Children's Day, June 8th of this year, since much of the work is done with children. These offerings have traditionally supported this important ministry of the Board of Home Missions with the local conferences and associations sharing the expense; and on the offerings depend, to a great extent, the maintenance and expansion of the Student Summer Service program.

The four SSS workers in the Southeast Convention this summer will be Phoebe Pemberton of East Tallassee Church and Martha Kirby of Roanoke Rock Stand Church, both students at Southern Union College; Peggy Hammock of Shawmut Todd Church and Mary Sue Johnson of Roanoke Lowell Church, both high school students who will assist the college workers.

If your church takes an offering on June 8, Children's Day, the money should be sent to the Convention Office marked for "Student Summer Service."

For A Successful VCS Program

Why is one Vacation Church School a success and another only so-so? There are many factors that go together to make a successful school, but the secret ingredient can be stated in two words — EARLY PLANNING.

This is not a moment too soon to begin making plans for the school in your community. Write to Rev. Annie R. Campbell at the Convention Office if you want to have a Student Summer Service Worker for your school. Or write her about materials if you plan to conduct your own school this year.

New Biennial Emphasis On Higher Education Planned

The Rev. Harold T. Janes, minister of the First Central Congregational Church of Omaha, Neb., has been appointed by the Board of Home Missions and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions to lead the denomination in the next biennial emphasis on higher education. He will direct the campaign to raise $7,500,000 in the next two years.

During the fund drive, individual members of Congregational Christian Churches throughout the country will be asked to make a special contribution to support higher education.

The fund will be used to expand the campus ministries in the state and private universities and colleges, to establish scholarships, and to support theological education at home and abroad.

The Congregational Christian Churches historically have had a deep concern for higher education. In this country they were responsible for the founding of such institutions as Harvard, Yale, Williams, Dartmouth, Amherst, Oberlin, Fisk University, Howard University and many others. Among the outstanding foreign colleges and universities growing out of the denomination's missionary endeavors are Doshisha University and Kobe College in Japan, Jaffna College in Ceylon, Aleppo College in Syria, and the American University in Beirut.

PROJECT OF THE MONTH

What do the boys and girls in your church school think of when you mention the Sioux Indians? Do visions of galloping red men pursuing army officers across the TV screens pop into their heads, — or is it a lone brave riding across the prairie seeking out the buffalo herd? How many of them know what the Indian Americans are like today, crowded on reservations that sustain them at bare existence or adrift in the cities trying to adjust to a new and sometimes frightening way of life. Someone has said that the Sioux people are now like a man swimming in the middle of a stream who cannot go back to the shore from which he came but does not know how to go to the opposite bank. Your church is working with Indian Americans — let us examine what it is doing and what more we might do.

Through the Board of Home Missions and the Council for Social Action we are attempting to influence legislation on behalf of our Sioux friends. Scholarships are provided for young people. Some direct aid is given to churches by their conference. And an educational program has been started in the churches with an emphasis on leadership training. Each year interested teachers attend the Black Hills workshop for

THIS WORKED FOR US

Do you have difficulty securing teachers for your church school? We did — until this past year. Our Christian Education Committee, after several months discussion, decided that a new emphasis and approach was needed. They decided we should "play up" church school teaching; emphasize that it is not an easy job, and that only the best teachers are wanted in our church school, only those who are willing to take the training course planned by our Christian Education Committee and attend quarterly departmental training meetings. With that background, they also decided on a goal of guidance and training. Miss Leila Anderson, special representative of the Board of Home Missions' Division of Christian Education, recently spent several months visiting the Indian American churches. Miss Anderson writes:

"The church can do something; both in its influence in governmental policies and in its concern, understanding, and help on local situations. It can give the 'cup of cold water' for what at times seems a bottomless pit of human need and yet at the same time work on long range programs to guide and challenge the people to face and work solutions with a sense of divine mission."

Here are some ways in which we may all extend the "cup of cold water" to our Indian friends through Friendly Service. 1) Good used clothing, especially for school age children. 2) School supplies — pencils, crayons, notebooks, ball point pens, etc. 3) Bibles — RSV, Bible story books (ages 4 to 14), and Church School materials. 4) Audio-Visual aids for church schools.

The above material may be sent to the following ministers who work with the Indian people in South Dakota: Rev. Philip Frazier, Box 216, McLaughlin, S. D.; Rev. Arnold Brown, Wood, S. D.; Rev. James Parker, Dupree, S. D.; Rev. James L. Selmser, Winner, S. D.; Rev. Frank Workentine, Eagle Butte, S. D. Money for any of these items may also be sent. Packages should be sent prepaid and should include a list of contents and the name and address of the church or individual sending it.

two teachers per class; the major teacher would plan together with his assisting teacher for the entire quarter's lessons. The assisting teacher would come to the first three classes in the fall to become acquainted with the class; a regular schedule would be worked out to the satisfaction of these two cooperating teachers, enabling the major teacher to take a Sunday off every five weeks, on the average. In addition to this, the helping teacher would be a trained substitute in case of illness or emergency at any time—

Our committee surprised even itself. The entire church school staff was all lined up by July! Books were given to these teachers to be reading over the summer months, at their leisure — background reading on the psychology of teaching each particular age group. In September, four training sessions were held, once weekly, and two outside leaders led our discussions on "How to prepare a lesson," "How to teach a lesson," "Creative activities in teaching," and "Music and worship in the church school."

The week before church school opened in October, the teachers met by departments and went over their lessons for the quarter, sharing ideas and suggestions on the best way to present each lesson. Similar departmental meetings were held the first week in January, and again prior to the next quarter's work.

It does work. We are a small church of about 140 members. We have increased our church school from 97 to 154 this year!

A PRAYER FOR EVERY MAN FOR EVERY DAY

Grant me, O Lord, to know what I ought to know, to love what I ought to love, to praise what delights Thee most, to value what is precious in Thy sight, to hate what is offensive to Thee. Do not suffer me to judge according to the sight of my eyes, nor to pass sentence according to the hearing of the ears of ignorant men; but to discern with a true judgment between things visible and spiritual, and above all things, to inquire what is the good pleasure of Thy will.

GRAHAM INAUGURATED AS NINTH PRESIDENT

The Southern Union College was very much in the news, and in the minds and hearts of the people of the Southeast Convention, as Walter A. Graham was inaugurated as the 9th president of the 36-year-old institution on Saturday, April 12. Thirty-nine colleges across the nation were represented in the academic procession as well as 19 church organizations, professional education groups, the trustees and the faculty.

President Graham was inducted into office by W. Pressley Ingram of Birmingham, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

In his inaugural address, President Graham witnessed to his dreams for the Southern Union of the future. He cited the overwhelming need for new buildings on the campus, a financial undergirding which would guarantee future growth, an emphasis on the cultural aspects of liberal education and the development of a community concern as education translated into life.

In the afternoon, Dr. J. Earl Daniel, president of Elon College, N. C., outlined the opportunities for Christian teaching in the American educational scene. Dr. Fred Hoskins, minister and secretary of the General Council of Congregational Christian churches, in the closing address of the inaugural festivities, spoke of the churches' stake in higher education.

Music for the day was provided by the college music department under the direction of Madam Lilly Justus.

Echoes Of Southern Union

The campus never looked better, especially the newly painted and draped auditorium in Elder Hall, nor was the weatherman more cooperative than on Saturday, April 12, when approximately 300 people gathered together for inauguration of the 9th president.

Flowers for the occasion were sent by air mail from Rev. Masao Yamada in Honolulu, Hawaii; and also by the Alumni Association of Kentucky Wesleyan College, the alma mater of the new president, the college being personally represented by the son of the new president and Assistant to the President, Douglas Sasser.

The inaugural luncheon was served in Kimball Hall. Guests were greeted at the door by President and Mrs. Graham, Vice-president Douglas Wasson and his fiancée, Miss Jo Peacock, Dean and Mrs. A. R. Van Cleave and Dean and Mrs. Henry Diehl.

W. Pressley Ingram, President Walter A. Graham, Rev. Miss Lillian S. Gregory and Dr. Fred Hoskins

The afternoon inaugural convocation featured organ music by Miss Ermaleen Graham, oldest daughter of President Graham, vocal music by the Southern Union Trio and Quartet with challenging and inspiring addresses by Dr. J. Earl Daniel and Dr. Fred Hoskins.

The inaugural ceremonies brought to a conclusion the annual two-day meeting of the Board of Trustees. Members present were Dr. Emily S. Dexter, Mrs. May L. Flickinger, Lynn H. Blair, W. P. Ingram (chairman), Dr. Vernon S. Loesch, Vernon L. Carter (secretary), Rev. James H. Lightbourne, Jr., John B. Stevenson, Mrs. A. D. Harry, Rev. Charles W. Bell and Dr. Paul R. Reynolds.

The college was happily represented by a different faculty member at each of the recent women's rallies throughout the convention. The college welcomes the opportunity to be a member of this team and is grateful for all the interest and support of the women in all of our churches.

Commencement exercises will be held on May 31 and June 1. All of the people of the Southeast Convention are cordially invited to attend any and all of these college functions.

The coming weeks will bring many visitors to the campus — youth work camps, ministers' convocation, women's retreat and others. All will be most Church News.....

On Maundy Thursday evening, April 3, 26 new members were received into the Atlanta Central Church.

Mr. Carl N. Sanford, member of the Board of Trustees, has prepared a most interesting graph to visualize the financial income and outgo of the church at each of the board meetings.

Two beautiful solid brass floor-based candelabra, of the world - famous Sudbury ware, are now a part of the equipment of "The House of Inspiration," coming as a memorial to Dr. Elizabeth I. Parsons from friends.

New carpeting has been installed in the Sanctuary, as a gift of the Couples Club, church members, and proceeds from the parish dinners.

At the Sunday School staff meeting, plans were made for the annual picnic, for purchasing new equipment, and for "family night" programs next year. Mrs. Ed. L. Askren, Jr. and Mrs. Richard Churchill are the superintendents.

The Rev. Annie Campbell participated in the impressive dedicatory service of The Woman's Gift at the April meeting of the Woman's Guild. Programs for the year have included Mrs. Rex Neely, chairman of the Health Committee of the United Church Women, as commentator for the film, "The Road Back," bringing to the fore the current needs and problems in mental health; Frank M. White at the piano with his own compositions; Dr. H. L. Johnson, who spoke on "Contemporary Relevance of the Christian Faith"; Dr. Kkai Sing Chang brought a moving Easter message; Edw. T. Hayes enriched the program with several vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Montgomery.

The Junior Pilgrim Fellowship program has been varied and interesting. Perhaps the most outstanding feature has been the Workshop periods, directed twice each month by Mrs. Ray L. Moseley, preparing cloth picture books for use in a crippled children's hospital.

The Senior PF presented a farcial melodrama, "The Case of the Missing Pearls." In the regular Sunday night program, topics of discussion have been: "Jesus' Teachings About Others," "What We Believe About the Devil,"

"What's Wrong With the World?," "The United Christian Movement," "Who's a Cheater?" and "Worship — What and How?" Movies seen have been "The Broken Mask" and colored slides of Japan.

Vanceville Church continues to have good attendance, considering the distance some members have to travel, the unfavorable weather and the flu epidemic. With the good weather this spring and summer we are looking forward to more interest and increased attendance, especially in the Sunday School and the young people's meetings.

During February Mrs. Floyd Tanner, Mrs. Ray Carpenter, and the Pilgrim Fellowship began a visitation program in the community, inviting people to come to church.

More than $100 worth of new Hymnals were purchased for the church.

On Feb. 16 the W. T. Cooper family attended the wedding of Miss Sara Lee Head and Ben Cooper at the Deacon Baptist Church in Atlanta.

Jack Abbott, Dan Cherry, Miss Wy-lene and Miss Eillene Cooper were delegates to the annual Pilgrim Fellowship meeting held in LaGrange on March 15-16. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cooper provided the transportation and were chaperones.

—Mrs. Rosie V. Matthews, reporter

Easter Sunday was a great day in the Langdale Church. The Union Sunrise Service was outstanding. We had 196 in Sunday School, 238 in Morning Worship and 100 Sunday evening.

Our "30 pieces of silver" offering came to a total of $354.75.

We have many fine improvements around the church and parsonage: the new baptistry, new sidewalks around the church, new awnings over the side doors, new Hymnals, the shrubbery trimmed and a new roof and new linoleum for the parsonage.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Southeast Convention were Miss Maxine Lauderdale, Mrs. Louise Miles, Alton Davis, James Dollar, William Thornton, Rev. Carroll W. Lewis, who served as chaplain for the annual meeting, and Odell Yancey, who is the SEC Moderator.

The East Alabama Women's Fellowship met at our church on April 13, with the Rev. Miss Lillian S. Gregory as the featured speaker. She was with us in the evening service, too, and is very, very outstanding. It was good to have Miss Campbell along too.

Miss Patsy Yancey has been honored again. She has received a scholarship to any college she chooses to attend from the National Elks Foundation. She is a delegate to the National Pilgrim Fellowship Conference in New York City in June. She is one of two delegates from the United States attending the World Girl Scout Congress in Mexico in July. The other delegate is from Rhode Island and is also a Congregational Christian!

Rev. Aubrey Manley, who is a charter member of this church, was our speaker at the Men's Fellowship in April.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sides presented their little Kathryn Diane for dedication on April 6.

The Rev. Clyde Fields was the Evangelist and the Rev. Roger Oldham led the singing for our revival April 20-25.

On June 1 the Rev. James H. Lightbourne, superintendent, will be our guest speaker for Homecoming Service.

What Is Christianity?

It is unreserved and full acceptance of Jesus Christ as the unique and divine Son of God and the absolute Savior of mankind. Then, in the home it is kindness; in business, it is honesty; in society, it is courtesy; in work it is fairness; toward the unfortunate, it is pity; toward the weak, it is help; toward the wicked, it is resistance; toward the strong, it is trust; toward the penitent, it is forgiveness; toward the fortunate, it is congratulations; toward God, it is reverence and obedience.

The Birthday Dinner on April 11 was a howling success, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Hugh O. Hunter. Wonderful food, thanks to Mrs. Geo. Plosser; and the entertainment planned by Mrs. J. Fulton Brittain was riotous, and melodious. Mrs. Wm. Seadler as commentator of the Silly Hats Contest was superb — but you should have seen the models! Approximately $150 was cleared.

Officers of the new Men's Club are Dr. S. Allen Price, president; Fred Cameron, vice president; Charles O. Glascock, secretary; Ed Schwarz, treasurer.

Members of the Roanoke Antioch Church miss the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Nelson, who have returned to serve the Huguley Church near Lanett.

On Feb. 23 our pulpit was filled by the Rev. Simon Bennett of Wadley, and on March 9 by the Rev. James A. Dollar of Lanett.

The Antioch Ladies Missionary Society is now having meetings each month in the church. They have adopted as their project the securing of a new piano, which is very much needed.

The Haleyville Union Grove Church has much to be thankful for: the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Shelton are now residing in the new parsonage. The Women's Fellowship furnished the guest room and also provided a new rug for the kitchen. Bathroom fixtures and running water are being installed. The men of the church have given much time and effort to the completion of the parsonage.
